

Jeans for the Journey

Casual Day never counted so much.

For five bucks, “go casual” for a day to help save some lives....

At our company, safety is important, so we’re partnering with the National Safety Council to raise safety awareness. To make our statement, you get to “go casual.”

For every $5 donation, you can wear jeans or casual clothes to work for a day. Together we can embark on a Journey to Safety Excellence™ and help the National Safety Council provide even more education and training to help save lives and prevent injuries.
