Carrier Earns Award For Safe Driving

David Mills, John Cowan III, Ricky Henderson, Dave Fields and Rodney DeFlumeri celebrate Henderson's award.

City Carrier Ricky Henderson was busy casing his mail before employees were gathered around the center of the workroom floor. So, the surprise registered on his face when he saw his wife walk out of the breakroom at Wilmington's Azalea Station.

It was all good news for Henderson, as he was one of three carriers in the office recognized for achieving thirty years or one million miles of safe driving. Henderson reached the milestone by doing what he does best: practicing safe habits and focusing on his duties as a carrier. District Manager Dave Fields said, "It's an incredible achievement, and no matter how many of these I present, I'm still honored to thank each one of you personally."

Henderson took a few moments to share the award with his wife before returning to his case. "Now," he said, "It's time to get back to work." Postmaster Rodney DeFlumeri also recognized other carriers for years of safe driving, with some achieving 20+ years – well on their way to the Million Mile Award.

HR Manager David Mills, Safety Specialist Laura Brown and John Cowan, III, President NALC Branch 464, also attended.
