Carriers Awarded for Practicing Motor Vehicle Safety Concord, NC, celebrates two Million Mile Awards

Mid-Carolinas District recently celebrated two National Safety Council Million Mile Awards in the city of Concord, NC. Acting Human Resources Manager Doris Reed pinned each carrier, presented plaques and read a congratulatory letter from District Manager Angela Curtis to each recipient.

"Each award represents three decades of safe driving – which translates to at least one million miles – without incurring a preventable motor vehicle accident," said Reed. "It takes many years of diligent service to earn this prestigious award."

Postmaster Brian White also commended Faggart and Garmon on their accomplishments. "Presenting a Million Mile Award to a carrier is one of the highlights of my career," said White. "Carriers should never be in such a hurry that safety falls to the wayside."

Local National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC) President John Cowan was also present and congratulated both award recipients. "It takes many years of putting safety first to achieve this milestone in a carrier's career," Cowan said. "It is an honor for carriers to receive this elite award and it sets an example for the new carriers coming into our workforce."
