Carrier's Award Was Years In The Making

Craig Kinlaw, Dave Fields, David Mills and Antonio Cuevas recognize Grady Privette (c) for his Million Mile Award

Rural Carrier Grady Privette recently earned an award that sets him apart from many others in his craft. As a Million Mile Award winner, Privette was honored by the National Safety Council for at least thirty years of accident-free driving. Privette received his award during a recent ceremony at the Cornelius Post Office.

District Manager Dave Fields commended Privette on serving his customers for more than 32 years, and for doing so safely. Fields said, "It's an honor each time I present this award because it represents a true professional. Thanks for all you do to take care of our customers."

Fields queried Privette about any secrets to being safe throughout his career, to which Privette replied, "It's just paying attention to what you do and what's going on around you. Follow the rules, and stay focused. And, it's a little luck, too." Cornelius Postmaster Antonio Cuevas says he's the lucky one because he has an office full of good employees who will follow in Privette's safe footsteps.

HR Manager David Mills, MPOO (A) Craig Kinlaw, Safety Manager Stephanie Harris and Safety Specialist Aileen Livingston also joined the celebration.
