There are as many reasons to join the National Safety Council as there are members

"CDM Smith has been a member of NSC for the past ten years and has significantly increased its involvement and participation in the past five years. During that time, our incident rates have steadily decreased, while all aspects (number of employees, revenue, profits) of our performance have increased dramatically. While avoided incidents are difficult to establish, we see a direct correlation between our increased participation, improved safety performance and improved business performance."

Ken Meyer, Health and Safety Director
CDM

Member since 2002

"AMECO proudly entered into our 20th year as a member of the National Safety Council. Looking back, I recall that at the time of becoming a member, we wanted to be known as the pre-eminent leader in safety, and knowing NSC was a leading advocate for safety and health, we eagerly joined. Now, as a member, we take full advantage of the latest NSC safety information, networking opportunities and resources. AMECO recently celebrated 30 million safe work hours and nine years without a lost workday incident. Our membership with NSC is a leading indicator of our success."

Daniel Rich, Sr. Director, Executive Services
AMECO

Member since 1990

"NSC is a provider of some of the best training possible. The instructors are top-notch professionals in their subject matter. I've gotten my dollars worth for the training NSC provided."

Joe Crews, CEO
Industrial Training International Inc.

Member since 2010

"The awards program is a great program for motivation and rewarding our top safety performers. It is an excellent way to involve senior management and to get visibility for the safety program."

Henry Kaplan, Safety Specialist
Garland ISO Risk Management

Member since 1993
