Surviving an Active Shooter Event

Brought to you by the National Safety Council and _____.

Chances are slim that you will encounter an Active Shooter event. In fact, you are three times more likely to die from a motor vehicle crash than a firearm assault. But should you find yourself in that situation, you want to be prepared.

Join us for “NSC Community Training: Surviving an Active Shooter Event” for residents of _____. Participants will learn how to:

- Prepare for a potential active shooter incident
- Recognize your options
- Quickly determine a plan
- Take the most effective action
