

NSC
Construction
& Utilities Division

Construction is not easy work.

It's hazardous. Risks are everywhere.

Falls from heights can be fatal. But falls don't have to happen.

The National Safety Council Construction & Utilities Division is working to ensure every employer in the industry has the information and tools they need to keep their workers safe – whether they are working on scaffolding, an I-beam or on a pole.

Visit nsc.org/falls to access your free resources