Don’t let unauthorized social media dictate your message

- Create a crisis communication plan for getting your message out quickly
- Decide who is responsible for drafting the message on behalf of your organization
- Let everyone know how the message will be communicated, both internally and to the public

Don’t face a crisis without a plan